CREATING YOURSELF

It’s never about who you are and who you were,
But it’s about creating yourself.

Nothing is really planned when it comes to you,
And except you, no one can help.

There are tough times
And I, maybe can’t explain it in all rhymes,
but sometimes it’s important to make strides,
in your minds to achieve the skies.

There are no real limits,
so fly to the height of nowhere.

there are no suddens, but only bits,
and believe that you will go there.

Listen to your intuition,
Listen to your heart.

Believe in all the hopes and illusions,
It won’t make you fall apart.
